A Winchcombe bride made her first effort at cooking one day last week, and a pie was the result of her effort. "I'm afraid" she said to her loving hubby, "that I have left something out that would make a pie taste like that; nothing on earth you could leave out that would make a pie taste like that; you know what you've put in it."

The wife of Mr. W. L. Stotts died last Monday morning. The end came at the residence of her father, Mr. Matthew Taylor, Glenville. Mrs. Stotts was a very enterprising lady and will be much missed by all who knew her and friends.

To the husband to whom she was married about two years ago, and who is so sorely bereaved, the news extends its deepest sympathy. May the Giver of all that is good comfort him in the darkest hour of his life.

"Where is that d—d spade, Mary?" asked a man of his wife as he entered the house the other day after a search for the implement. "I'll be d—d if I know where," she sweetly replied, and the lesson went home with such a distinct thud that he raised his right hand on the spot and took oath that he would never again pollute his lips with a profane word in her presence.—Winchester Democrat.

It is with pride we pleasure that we point to the splendid condition of the State. The State is free from debt and law and order everywhere prevail. We are, therefore, unqualifiedly in favor of administration—a change of administration—a change of public affairs.

We demand the collapse of our country known as trusts, and we demand a "change of system—a change of administration—a change of measures and men."

We demand that the refusal of the Governor of Kentucky to sign the bill for the reorganization of the Government of Kentucky the persons of William S. Taylor and Charles Finley, fugitives from justice, charged with complicity in the murder of Gov. William McKinley, be reprehensible, unprecedented and illegal, and deserves the severest condemnation of all lovers of law and justice.

We demand that the refusal of the First Circuit Court and the Republic of Representatives to prosecute our further investigation are suggestive of hidden or concealed corruption. We are, therefore, in favor of a thorough investigation of all the departments.

We demand that the public and dishonesty may be discovered and exposed.

And a pure and honorable and efficient administration of public affairs secured.

WED JUNE 15, 1904.

The Democratic State Convention held in Louisville last week was one of the most harmonious gatherings ever witnessed in the metropolis of this Commonwealth, notwithstanding a spirited struggle was predicted. The attendance was large and every delegate conducted himself with such decorum as would meet the approbation of a Sunday-school or that would measure up to the demands of a gathering of the most intelligent citizens of any State. The convention was called to order by Chairman Alie W. Young, who attempted to briefly defend his record, but devoted himself mainly to a denunciation of the Courier-Journal and Times. Gov. J. C. W. Beckham was elected temporary chairman, over Judge Frank Peake, the vote standing 817 to 322. This indicated that the opposition to the Governor was not so strong as had been claimed by the leaders in opposition to the administration. The convention selected Gov. J. C. W. Beckham, Senators Blackburn and McCreary and Congressman Ollie James, as delegates at large, a compliment to these gentlemen well deserving and a safeguard to the Democracy of the State. The representatives of Kentucky go uninstructed, under the unit rule, but anti-Harriet. In reorganizing the committees that so much affect the welfare of the party some good and wholesome changes were made, the most important being the Chairman of the State Central and Executive Committees. Mr. Alie W. Young has held this position since 1899, but its honors and responsibilities now rest on Mr. Lewis McQuown, of Bowling Green, a Democrat of the trustee make up, and a lawyer of ability whose record for fairness so well fits him for the weighty duties of party work. Mr. James Garnett, Jr., of Columbia, was re-elected a member of the State Central Committee for this district an honor well and justly placed and manifests the confidence reposed in him as a Democrat, able and willing to meet the requirements of this responsible position. The Eleventh district besides selecting Jas. Garnett, Jr., as a member of the State Central Committee, made elections as follows: Delegates to the national convention, Hon. John W. Collier, of Pulaski, and Dr. A. Gatlin, of Whitley. Alternates, Wm. Sampson, of Harlan and J. J. Grissom, of Monroe. Elector, R. C. Ford, of Bell. Mr. Gordon Montgomery, of this place, was chosen as a member of the Committee on credentials, and Mr. Lafe Sharp, of Liberty, was selected to act with the committee on rules. Capt. J. F. Horn was elected a member of the State Executive Committee and the following gentlemen were chosen as State electors: Claud Thomas, of Bourbon; L. H. Carter, of Anderson. Assistants, Harry Sommers, of Hardin; M. J. Howard, of Kenton.

The Indiana State Sentinel has the following: "The movement to make Judge Parker the Democratic Presidential nominee started with the Democratic masses—not with the politicians. His boom has grown in strength and vigor, because the masses of Democratic voters want him. This demand is irrepressible. Nearly all the leading politicians opposed him until they heard from the people. The voice of the masses is so strong for him that politicians are flocking to his standard. Only a few of the big ones now stand out. The latest to fall into line is ex-President Cleveland. A few weeks ago he was for Judge Gray or Richard Olney. He now sees the masses are for Parker and he gets on the bandwagon. Gorham and Bryan should also now fall into line. The Parker nomination is a certainty."

The editor of the Casey County News, our friend and neighbor, criticized one of our editorial's of week before last, and commented on its grammatical and typographical defects. We have no inclination to offer an excuse, but will state that the errors to which he referred were corrected in the same issue on the first page. We have made mistakes all along, and will likely make more. We are interested in advancing this part of the State and have no time nor space to use on anything smaller or weaker than the News. Just now the Columbia and Lebanon Interurban railroad is paramount.

O. O. Stealey, the Courier-Journal's Washington correspondent, writes as follows concerning the Presidential contest: "The situation at this time is decidedly mixed; in fact, all up in the air." Cleveland is in the bush, Parker on the bench and Hearst mounting over his setback in Colorado and Utah, for to Hearst the loss of these two States which he had so lovingly nursed was the unkindest cut of all. He did not mind what they did to him in Ohio and Indiana, but to enter as it were into the bosom of his own family and snatch from his own fireside two of his cherished children was an act that bows down his head with the weight of its own woe."

It is now evident that no candidate will have a cinch on the Democratic nomination for the Presidency when the National Convention meets at St. Louis the 6th of July. Of the 728 delegates so far chosen, 374 are uninstructed. In instructed voters Judge Parker, of New York, leads with 178. This is far from being sufficient to nominate, and as above stated, there is no telling what will be the outcome. Parker is evidently the choice of the Kentucky delegation selected at Louisville, and in our judgment he will receive the twenty-six votes of this State.

It was the opinion of nearly every speaker who addressed the State Democratic Convention that Mr. Bryan would not bolt the action of the St. Louis convention if it makes no one received the nomination, and that the gentleman chosen as the Presidential candidate would be elected. Judge Parker was decidedly the favorite, but every utterance went to show that the Democrats of Kentucky would be satisfied with any candidate put out by the St. Louis convention.

Lieut. Governor Bill Thorne in speaking to the State Convention said: "If the Democrats of Kentucky want Parker, I am for Parker; if they want Gorman, I am for Gorman; if they want Olney I am for Olney. Why, I would vote for Cleveland if he was nominated." "What about Hearst?" cried a voice in the assembly. "There has been too much money already spent upon him," said the speaker.

In the Louisville Democratic State Convention the Adair county delegation got every thing they went after, and was on the winning side upon every proposition that came before the convention.

The platform adopted by the Democratic State Convention is published elsewhere in this paper. It is not lengthy, but contains principles that every right thinking man should endorse. Read it.

Ninety-seven of the 131 bills adopted by the last General Assembly became laws in effect last Monday. Many of these measures carry appointments to be made by the Governor.

Of the 728 delegates so far chosen to the National Democratic Convention, 374 are uninstructed. Those instructed are, for Parker, 178; Hearst, 110; Olney, 32; Wall, 26; Gray, 6.

At a show in a tent at Barberville a brace broke under the elevated seats and thirty people were injured, one probably fatal.

It is impossible to tell what the future will bring forth, but to us it looks like Senators Blackburn and McCreary and Congressman Dave Smith have made the mistake of their lives.

Ten men were killed by an explosion which destroyed the Corn ing distillery at Peoria, Ill. 30,000 barrels of beer were destroyed and 8,000 cattle were burned to death. The loss is $2,000,000.

Should a society for the prevention of race suicide be formed in Oklahoma, Deputy Sheriff Frank Carter, of Lawton, would likely be chosen its first president, says the Guthrie, O. T. correspondent of the Kansas City Journal. Although married but 18 years, Mr. Carter and his wife are the parents of 20 children, all living. There are 15 boys and eight girls and it is said President Roosevelt has written a personal letter to Mr. Carter, in which he wished the Oklahoman success in raising his children. Fourteen are twins.

The anniversary of the birth of Jefferson Davis was generally observed throughout the South as memorial day by the Confederate veterans. Business was suspended in many cities and the graves of the dead heroes were strewed with flowers and Eulogies were pronounced by orators.

Frank T. Young, a brazier, was shot and killed in a cabin in New York while on his way to a steamship pier to join his wife, with whom he was to have sailed for Europe. Mrs. Nan Patterson, a former actress, who was in the cabin with Young was held in $5,000 on request of the police.

JONATHAN M. RICHARDSON.

Hon. James M. Richardson, one of the State Prison Commissioners, editor of The Glasgow Times and a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this district, spent Wednesday in town in the interest of his candidacy.

His stay here was a very pleasant one, and he expressed himself as highly pleased with the reception accorded him by the local Democrats. Mr. Richardson's home town is Glasgow, the same as that from which the Republican nominee, William Henry Jones, hails. —Todd County Times.

MRS. FETXIA J. READSHIP J.W.

A little more than eighty nine years have rolled away since our sister was a little babe in her mother's arms.

She was born January 15, 1815 and died April 20, 1904.

Her mother was a native of Culpeper County, Va.

Sister Bradshaw was first married to Lewis P. Gaar March 1st, 1831. After his death, she married Alvan Bradshaw in 1839. She was the mother of three children, W. A. Gaar, who still lives in Russell County, Mary M. Meadows, the wife of James N. Meadows, attorney-at-law of Jamestown, and Elizabeth Cook, who is dead.

Sister Bradshaw left several grandchildren and great grandchildren to mourn her death.

She was a consistent member of the Methodist church for more than seventy years, and was never ashamed to tell how she stood among spiritual lines. All the preachers who have had charge of the Bethesda Church knew her for her loyalty to the cause. She was a woman of much energy, will power and independence.

Her eyesight failed her about ten years ago, which with her old age rendered her usefulness to a large extent, and rendered her less able to perform her duties.

These growers of this country are highly judgmental at the treatment received at the hands of tobacco buyers and, if their statement of the case is correct, it would seem that their complaint is well founded. According to the statement of the buyers, it appears that the buyers have agreed among themselves to give each buyer a certain territory and that no other buyer is to enter that territory, by some arrangement, purchased territory at its entry. Yet the large majority of republican farmers are so particular with regard to the purchase of territory that they will go right along with the ticket of the party which sells and fosters this outrageous trust, and thus do the buyers get a good price.

These growers of this country are not without cause as far as the part of human nature that causes mankind to err. Yes, she was gentle and kind, loyal to her church, loved her home and honored her God and Savior, and was not ashamed to proclaim Him to all people.

After many years of hard fought battles, witnessing the struggles of the rebellion, burying her friends and two companions, she came to the decline of life with a second childhood feeble and tottery.

She was fondly cared for and watched over by her granddaughter, Miss Dell Meadow, and other members of the family.

The latest report from the Far East indicates that the Russian forces are retreating toward Port Arthur. The battle of Nanshan Hill is said to have been one of the bloodiest in the history of modern warfare, and the Japanese paid heavily for their brilliant victory.

The official report says that 8,500 of their men were killed or wounded, and they estimate the Russian loss at 2,000. The Japanese captured 70 guns, which is considered as St. Petersburg as a serious blow to Gen. Kuropatkin. The Japanese have captured the town of Nan Chan Ling. It is believed they will continue their movement toward Port with a view of attacking that place. No official information has been given out at St. Petersburg.

THE DISTANT HILLS.
The task that seems so very great,
From which you daily shrink in dread,
Will be well ended while you wait
And with the way we're treated.

The traveler whose feet have hurried
On dusty slopes, in valleys deep,
And on the rocky heights have learned
That distant hills are always steep.

The duty that day after day
You do, may seem to you as labor still
And making it could not stop.
Perhaps it is like the distant hill.

The tasks we try so hard to shun
Are often found, when forth we leap.

At last, when thine, quickly done,
The distant hills are always steep
Why wait when there is work for you?

Way scan it from afar, and sigh:
It may not be so hard to do.

If you but pressed and try,
We're told, when upon the light
Wind, the clouds will sweep

At all the gentle slopes in height
The distant hills are always steep
—S. E. Kiser, in "The Chicago Record-Herald."

BRAIN LEAKS.

Some men mistake heartlessness for candor.

Gentlemen will not like to stories that are unfit for women to hear.

You have to kneel down before God
With thy lips up.

Pity is much more than a long face
And a nasal twang.

Tapering off on a bad habit is too much like eating cuminus with a fork.

The man who spends all of his time
Preparing for death has not lived for much.

Some people put so much trust in God that they have no faith in them selves.

Hope is hard to kill as long as doubt
Is kept from the door of the heart.

One swallow does not make a summer, nor
One accident of them will make a man a "genie."

The man who is a day ahead of his work
Is worth double the man who is going to do two day's work to-morrow.

KANSAS PHILOSOPHY.
What a man pays a compliment to a man and his wife, he pays to wonder slightly what he means!

The cow ahead of the mule, she doesn't have to wait till some one is ready to wash and cook the greens
for her eat them.

If a woman really loves her husband
when she is asked how he is, she will say
"Well, he does not complain, but I don't think he is very well."

You have a great deal of the yellow and the blue part. There is also the red and the green hairs having rendered the coloration of pink.

This is the season when, if any one mentions a groaner, some women present make a record by claiming that she always washes her clothes.

She cares for her husband as God's temple. She writes nothing she may regret.

She knows that nothing is more distinguished than a duster.

She knows that to love and be loved is her birthright—if she is worthy of love.—Julie Hamilton Tucker in "Home Journal."

AGED WOMAN.

House Cave Gazette: Mrs. Betsy Wilson, of Edmonson, the mother of Mrs. Rebekah Oldham was 90 years old on the 30th day of Jan. 1915. She lately resided in her home in Mr. Oldham's near the state line, in Ohio, and the next day went to Bowling Green in the same hurry and was ready the next morning to be up to early to break fast and walk miles like young people, who have no time to care for health which is now in good condition that remains up the tree.
